The screenshot displays the European Parliament EP Library website. At the top, the EP Library logo is visible. Below it, a breadcrumb trail reads: European Parliament Library / LibGuides / Citizens' Policies / Selected Online Reading on Artificial Intelligence and Law / Home. The main heading is "Selected Online Reading on Artificial Intelligence and Law", with a search box to its right. A descriptive paragraph follows: "Find a list of selected books, electronic books and articles, online databases, newswires and training sessions to enhance your knowledge from home." On the left, a navigation menu includes "Home", "Books on the topic", "Overview", "Aspects of Artificial Intelligence", and "Access to sources". Below this are blue buttons for "E-books", "E-articles", "Databases and Newsletters", "Online training", "EPRS publications", and "Related guides". The central carousel features three book covers: "Atlas of AI" by Kate Crawford, "Artificial Intelligence and the Law" edited by Jan De Bruyne and Cedric Vankenhove, and "The Future of Copyright in the Age of Artificial Intelligence" by Aviv H. Gaon. A blue bar at the bottom of the carousel is labeled "Overview".

Mit Hilfe der aufgefächerten Daten (Ressourcen) werden Themencluster gebildet und die Bestände für eine entsprechende Kollektion identifiziert.

Mit der Embedfunktion werden diese auf Webseiten mit „Schaufenster“-Effekt (hier in LibGuides) „transportiert“ und integriert.

BiblioGraph liefert hierfür für die Kollektionen einen Embedlink.

The world would be a very different place if it were not for Albert Einstein. Like Newton and Galileo before him, this remarkable scientist changed forever mankind's understanding of the universe. In 1921, five years after proclaiming his general theory of relativity, Einstein was awarded the Nobel Prize for Physics in recognition of his remarkable achievements. In the same year he travelled to the United States to give four lectures that consolidated his theory and sought to explain its meaning to a new audience. These lectures were published the following year as The Meaning of Relativity, which he revised with each new edition until his death. It remains a key work for anyone wishing to discover at first hand the workings of one of the most inspiring minds of the twentieth century. T...

CreativeWork

A Schema.org Type

Thing > CreativeWork

The most generic kind of creative work, including books, movies, photographs, software programs, etc.

Details

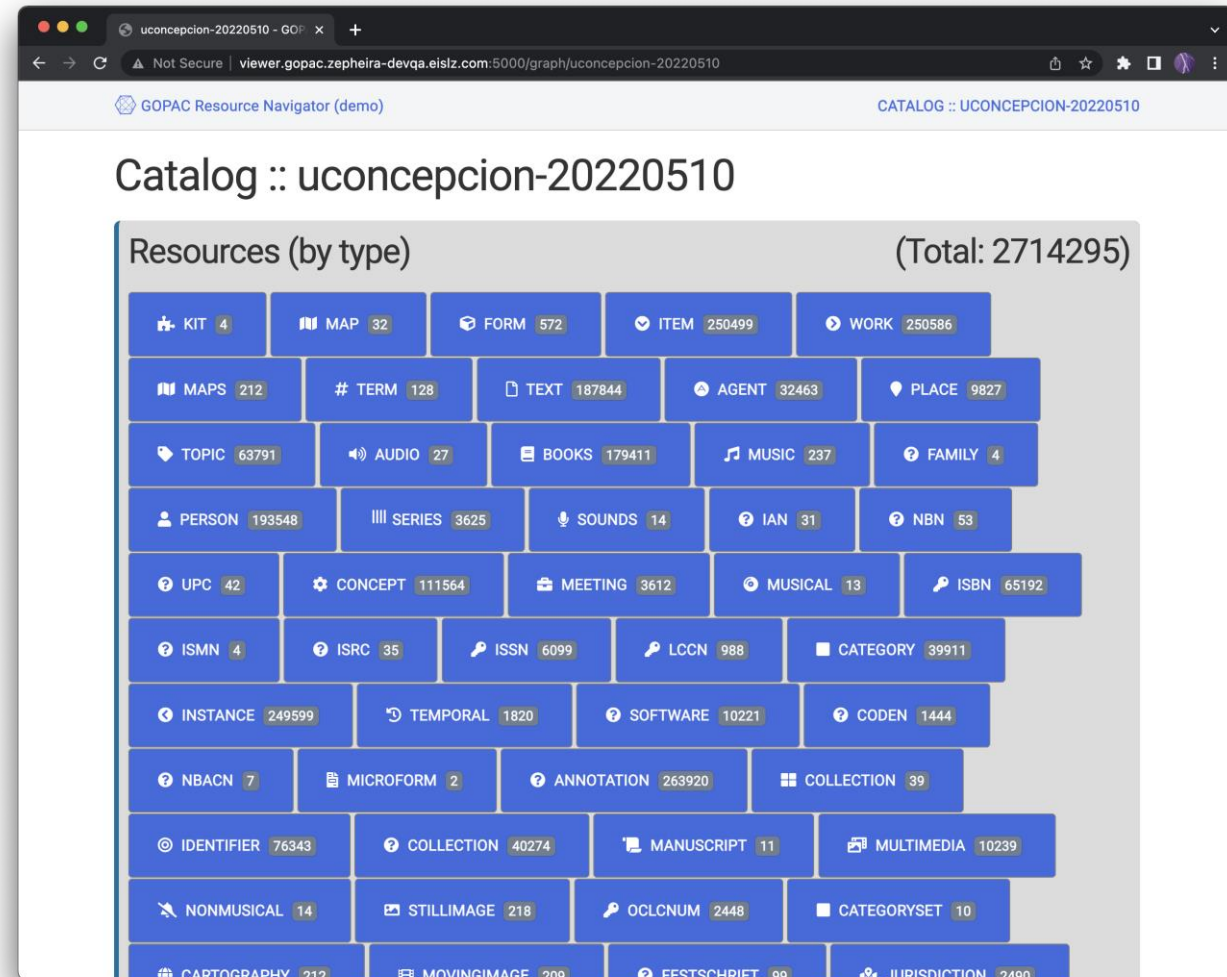

Property	Expected Type	Description
Properties from CreativeWork about	Thing	The subject matter of the content. Inverse property: subjectOf abstract	Text	An abstract is a short description that summarizes a CreativeWork .
accessMode	Text	The human sensory perceptual system or cognitive faculty through which a person may process or perceive information. Values should be drawn from the approved vocabulary .
accessModeSufficient	ItemList	A list of single or combined accessModes that are sufficient to understand all the intellectual content of a resource. Values should be drawn from the approved vocabulary .
accessibilityAPI	Text	Indicates that the resource is compatible with the referenced accessibility API. Values should be drawn from the approved vocabulary .
accessibilityControl	Text	Identifies input methods that are sufficient to fully control the described resource. Values should be drawn from the approved vocabulary .
accessibilityFeature	Text	Content features of the resource, such as accessible media, alternatives and supported enhancements for accessibility. Values should be drawn from the approved vocabulary .
accessibilityHazard	Text	A characteristic of the described resource that is physiologically dangerous to some users. Related to WCAG 2.0 guideline 2.3. Values should be drawn from the approved vocabulary .
accessibilitySummary	Text	A human-readable summary of specific accessibility features or deficiencies, consistent with the other accessibility metadata but expressing subtleties such as "short descriptions are present but long descriptions will be needed for non-visual users" or "short descriptions are present and no long descriptions are needed."
accountablePerson	Person	Specifies the Person that is legally accountable for the CreativeWork.

The design of the Eurosystems monetary policy instruments, Ulrike Neyer

Creator Neyer, Ulrike

Summary The creation of a single monetary currency and a single monetary policy in the euro area has faced extraordinary challenges, among them the design of suitable monetary policy instruments. This book evaluates monetary policy instruments of the Eurosystem against a number of requirements. For doing so, a theoretical model framework is developed which brings together the monetary policy activities of a central bank and the liquidity management of banks considering the main characteristics and institutional features of the euro area. Main results of this analysis are that different costs of obtain
